

Best Practices 2017-18

1. Regular organization of blood donation camp: College organizes blood donation camp every year in the memory of Late Dr. Ajeet Kumar Agnihotry. This programme also involves invited lectures from medical doctors to aware the audience with various blood related disorders and their prevention. During the years 2017 and 2018 about 40 and 60 volunteers respectively donated the blood.
2. Plantation of saplings: College students in collaboration with forest department take part regularly in tree plantation drive to increase the green cover of the nation. The students visit the plantation sites regularly along with forest guards to care the saplings.
